State Park First Day Hikes and Polar Bear Plunges Offer Invigorating Start to the New Year

Santa Fe, NM - Make a New Year’s resolution to your health and happiness by kicking off 2019 with a First Day Hike or a Polar Bear Plunge at a state park near you. On New Year’s Day, New Mexico State Parks will sponsor free, guided hikes in eight state parks as part of America’s State Parks First Day Hikes. Polar Bear Plunges will also be held at three parks this year.

“We are excited to host First Day Hikes as part of this national effort to get people outdoors and into our parks. First Day Hikes are a great way to cure cabin fever and burn off those extra holiday calories by starting off the New Year with an invigorating walk or hike in one of your beautiful state parks,” said Christy Tafoya, NM State Parks Director. She added, “On New Year’s Day, the Polar Bear Plunge has been a long-standing tradition at Storrie Lake State Park in Las Vegas.”

New Mexico State Parks boast a variety of beautiful settings for year-round outdoor recreation, and each First Day Hike will offer an opportunity to explore unique natural and cultural treasures. From Carlsbad to Raton, hikers can climb hills and mountain tops, walk along lakes, and traverse trails through forests and prairies.

In New Mexico, hikes and plunges will be offered at the following locations and times:

First Day Hikes:
1. Bottomless Lakes State Park - Roswell – 11 a.m.
2. Cerrillos Hills State Park - Cerrillos – 1 – 3 p.m.
