State Forestry Conservation Seedlings Available for Purchase at the New Mexico State Fair

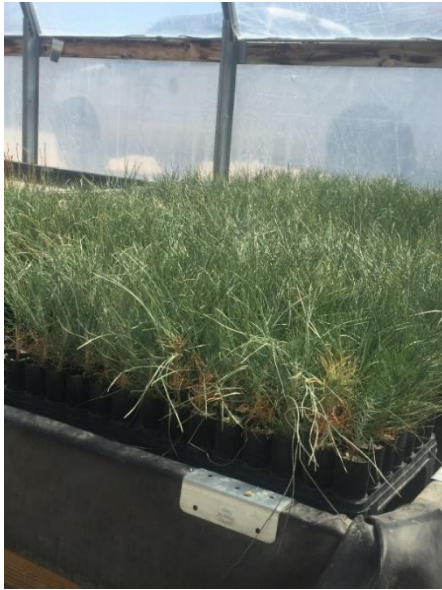

Santa Fe, NM - The New Mexico State Forestry Division (NMSF) will be selling individual seedlings to the public at this year's State Fair in Albuquerque. A total of 18 tree and shrub species will be available for $2 each inside the Bob Gerding Natural Resources Building at Expo New Mexico, September 6-16, 2018.

"The New Mexico State Fair is one of the few times of the year that the Forestry Division sells seedlings individually," said Conservation Seedling Program Manager Carol Bada. "It's a great excuse to get out, have some fun, and pick up a new tree or shrub for the yard!"

Forestry staff will be on hand to determine which seedlings are perfect for the purchaser, considering elevation, soils, and moisture needs among other plant health indicators.

More than 50 species of seedlings are also available to the public for purchase in larger quantities online. A full list of seedlings and purchasing information is located at nmforestry.com. The final day to order online will be October 5, 2018. Distribution will take place between September 10 and October 12. All proceeds are reinvested back into the State Forestry Conservation Seedling Program.
